SUPA HEALTH

WHAT IS IT?

SUPA HEALTH

BioGro certified as an organic input, SUPE HEALTH is a naturally occurring mineral that is beneficial when added to livestock rations. It is an aluminosilicate mineral that has a high negative charge and a large internal surface area, with pore sizes in the lattice work that allow some molecules to enter and be trapped, whilst others are excluded.

Geologically young aluminosilicates like Supa Health tend to have cleaner lattice work and are therefore better able to adsorb liquids and cations.

BENEFITS

- * Added to calf-feed, Supa Health significantly reduces scours
- * Calves love the taste
- * Supa Health aids digestion processes
- * Significantly decreases odour
- * Stimulates livestock immune systems
- * Enhances resistance to disease

HOW DO I USE IT?

Simply add SUPA HEALTH to your animal feed, or place it directly into feed troughs to allow animals to self manage their intake. Addition rates from 100gm per day - or ad-lib as necessary. For healthier animals use SUPA HEALTH.

Suitable for all Livestock
